Blackboard drawing from Class 4&5 introducing Yggdrasil, the World Tree, as part of their Norse Myths main lesson block

In A Nutshell...

Is there an area of the curriculum that you'd like to understand more? Do you have general questions about this education? If so, send them here and we'll see what conversations we can get going...let's learn together

From The Classrooms

Class 4-5 has returned to school full of characteristic energy and enthusiasm. It really is a delight to have everyone back in school again - and a few welcome new faces too!

After starting the day with record-breaking skipping with two ropes, the class has turned its attention to the Myths of the Norsemen. After hearing how King Gylfi was deprived of a large part of his kingdom by the mysterious and powerful Gefuin and her four black bulls, we heard about the creation myths and the World Tree. By one of the roots of Yggdrasil dwell the three wise Norns, weaving together the past, present and future to create the web of destiny. As well as leading us into our grammar work on parts of speech and the tenses, they have become central to larger questions about which is most powerful: the past, present or future... All answers are welcome!

At the beginning, there was a huge void called Ginnungagap.
It was bordered by an icy realm called Niflheim.
Parts of the giant Ymir were used to make the world.

The Norns of Yggdrasil

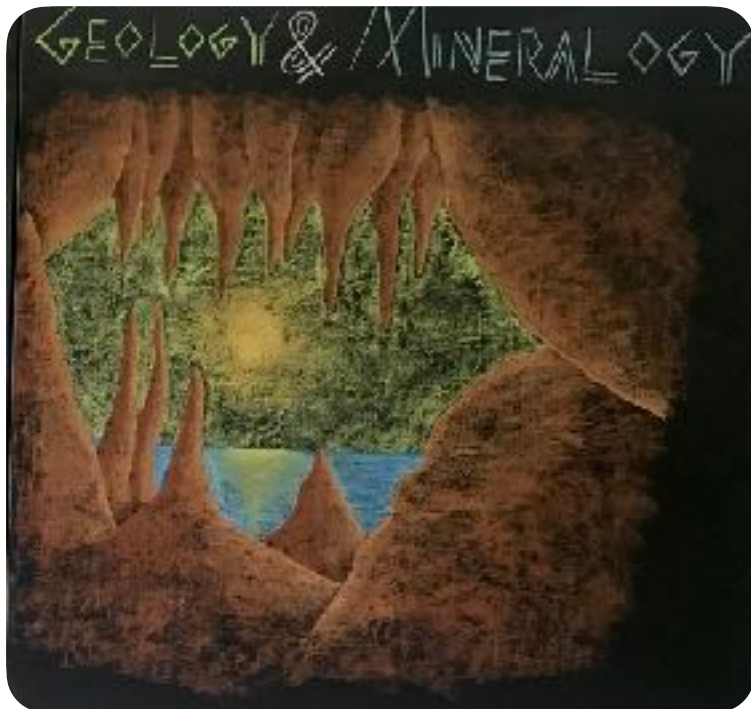

Class 6/7

Class 6&7 are delighted to be back and are full of enthusiasm for the new school year.

Our first Main Lesson is Geology and Mineralogy.

The children are hungry to use their developing intellectual capacity, and this block meets this need beautifully.

Upper School

The Upper School have been maintaining the school's handmade canoes prior to them being used on our outdoor activity day. Canoeing, as an upper school activity, offers practise in the core skills and values that we wish to develop in our students. These include resilience, taking responsibility and appreciation of the natural environment.

Our very own Rayne Gadalla, Parent of Class 3, is taking part in the Concern Ration Challenge, from the 13-19th of September. Rayne is doing this to raise funds and awareness. She writes,

"I am taking part in the Ration Challenge and eating the same food as a Syrian refugee for one week. Will you sponsor me?" The ration pack includes rice (420g) lentils (170g) dried chickpeas (85g) 1 can of tinned sardines (120g) a tin of red kidney beans (400g) and vegetable oil (330ml) plus a small portion of flour and extra rice equivalent to UN top ups. Drinking only water

Funds go towards medical treatment emergency food and also training programmes

PRELUDE

The foundations of Steiner Waldorf Education

Introductory online course
September 2020 to June 2021

Information on aswte.org

The need for a renewal in education has rarely been more keenly felt than it is today. There is growing awareness that modern life is impacting negatively on our children`s mental and physical health, their hopes and aspirations, their self-belief and their sense of purpose. Steiner Waldorf Education aims to equip children and young people with resilience, sensitivity and confidence for meeting the world. The PRELUDE course will bring deeper understanding of what characterises this education to a wide range of people, enabling you to assess for yourself what it can contribute to an improved future for our children.
